About OSCA

The Ottawa Snow Contractors' Association (OSCA) represents and promotes the snow and ice management industry in greater Ottawa.

OSCA is a non-profit and member-based trade organization. The association represents companies who serve homeowners, condominiums, commercial clients, and institutional/government accounts.

All members must meet stringent qualifications and subscribe to OSCA's Code of Ethics. The association encourages members to follow best practices, continually upgrade their education, and be conscientious of the impact the industry has on the natural environment.

OSCA helps to work as a liaison between snow and ice management contractors, the City of Ottawa and the Province of Ontario. OSCA also works closely with suppliers to the industry and other trade-related organizations.

The volunteer-run Board of Directors consists of between three and five members and the term of each position is typically two years.
